

Sushisojuncho Hidaka

This popular Japanese restaurant debuted in Ishikari more than 40 year ago. In addition to serving sushi, it offers salmon ramen with a soy sauce broth and Ishikari nabe (hotchpotch), all made with local ingredients, as well as chicken hotchpotch and other unique dishes featuring special fresh ingredients. The restaurant owner is the only person to be publicly registered by Ishikari City as a sake specialist. The restaurant is recommended for those hoping to try sake.
